

Proclamation

Judith Ann (Judy) and Bob Goldman moved to Hawai'i in 1972 with their two young daughters, Lita and Erica. The following year, Judy began what became a lifetime of community service in our islands.

Judy's passion for education led her to Lanikai Elementary School, where she created a computer lab and technology-oriented curriculum. As an educator, she went above and beyond by volunteering her time as a tutor with Hawai'i Literacy and hosting workshops for students, teachers and parents.

Judy has enjoyed much success in serving our Jewish community. Her work at the Congregation Sof Ma'arav has been extensive, serving as a Sunday School Teacher, board secretary, chair of the congregational Shabbaton scholar-in-residence weekend at Makaha and chair of the Sof Ma'arav annual Jewish film night. She is the proud co-editor the popular 1989 Sof Ma'arav Cookbook, The When You Live in Hawai'i You Get Very Creative During Passover Cookbook.

Having served with distinction at Temple Emanu-El as Chairman of the School of Jewish Studies, Temple trustee, secretary and vice-president of the board of trustees and Chairperson of a scholar-in-residence Shabbaton, Judy's work has been greatly valued there, too.

During Judy's tenure as Chairperson for the Soviet Resettlement Committee of the Jewish Federation of Hawai'i between 1992 and 1994, she worked to bring 19 people of Jewish descent from the former Soviet Union to Chicago and Hawai'i.

Judy went on to chair the Federation's Jewish Community Services Committee and upon its closure in Hawai'i, she rallied Hawai'i's Jewish community to establish a new and independent organization. Through their efforts, the Jewish Community Services was established. Judy co-chaired the organization from its inception and continues to serve today as its newsletter editor.

In 1995, Judy joined the board of Samaritan Counseling Center of Hawai'i. For her dedicated efforts in initiating and chairing a book fair of 50 local authors for the Center, she received its prestigious Distinguished Service Award in 1999. Since then, she has served as the center's vice-president and continues to be an active board member.

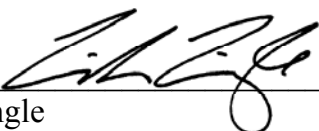

On November 19, Judy Goldman will be presented with the 2006 Jewish Community Services Volunteer of the Year award at a special dinner being held in her honor at the Hale Koa Hotel.
